

Spiti: Daughter of the Sea

Years ago, IDRIS AHMED took a serendipitous detour to the valley of Spiti on one of his motorbiking trips. The stark landscape and the overwhelming warmth of the people fascinated Idris and compelled him to return year after year, like a besotted lover. Here is a personal journey of self-discovery as well as a loving tribute to the spirit of Spiti.

